The Honorable Allen W. Dulles,
Director,
Central Intelligence Agency,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Allen:

You were most thoughtful to drop me a line and I was indeed glad to hear from you. I was in Washington only the one day immediately after I returned and of course tried to reach you only to find that you were out of town.
I will be in Washington definitely on the 2nd and 3rd of November and shall hope very much you will be able to find time to see me for a few minutes.

I am working very hard on my golf game with the aim of having it at its peak when you arrive in Paris in November.

With warm regards,

Yours,

Wm. Houghton
